

B. Adam Hajovsky, MD

1201 Summit Avenue
Fort Worth, TX 76102
817-332-2020

DEGREES AND TRAINING

Vitreo-Retinal Fellowship	Retina and Vitreous of Texas, Houston, TX	2003-2005
Ophthalmology Residency	University of Florida, Gainesville, FL	2000-2003
Internship – Internal Medicine	Texas Tech University, Lubbock, TX	1999-2000
Medical School	Texas Tech University, Lubbock, TX	1995-1999

EMPLOYMENT

Ophthalmology Associates	1201 Summit Avenue, Fort Worth, TX 76102 -- starting 7/1/05
Private Instructor, Musculoskeletal Anatomy	Texas Tech University School of Medicine Lubbock, TX	1996
Laboratory Assistant, Pathology	John Peter Smith Hospital, Fort Worth, TX	1994-1995

ACADEMIC HONORS AND AWARDS

Resident of the Year – University of Florida Department of Ophthalmology		2003
Outstanding First Year Resident – Texas Tech University Department of Internal Medicine		2000
Medical School Honors – Texas Tech University School of Medicine Plastic Surgery elective		1999
Ob/Gyn Senior clerkship		1999

PAGE 2

B. ADAM HAJOVSKY, MD
CURRICULEM VITAE

Internal Medicine Sub-I		1998
Ophthalmology elective		1998
Undergraduate Awards – Texas Tech University
President’s List		1994
Dean’s List	spring and fall	1993
Golden Key National Honor Society		1992

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

American Academy of Ophthalmology
Texas Medical Association
Texas Ophthalmology Association
Tarrant County Medical Society

MEDICAL LICENSURE

State of Texas	L6926	Issued 2003
State of Wisconsin	45017-020	Issued 2002

RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

Previously participated in several clinical studies at Retina & Vitreous of Texas.
For a complete listing, go to <http://www.retinatexas.com/studies.html>

Medical Uses of Contact Lenses – with William Driebe and Sonal Tuli	2002
University of Florida, Department of Ophthalmology.

Progression of Diabetic Retinopathy following Phacoemulsification with Jacqueline Wong, Texas Tech Ophthalmology	1998
---	------